DID YOU EVER WONDER WHERE
YARN COMES FROM OR HAVE
YOU WANTED TO LEARN A NEW FIBER-RELATED CRAFT?

Retreats at Mulberry Hill Farm

When is the last time you had uninterrupted time to craft and enjoy friends, food and fun?

Did you ever want to find out where your yarn comes from and how it's made?

Would you like to immerse yourself in a world of hand-crafted goods and learn a new fiber art? Or would you just like to spend some time with friends in a natural and relaxing setting.

If so, a retreat at Mulberry Hill Farm is for you. Each retreat starts with a tour of the farm where you'll get to meet the resident sheep and chickens.

We offer several different retreats and can host groups of various sizes.

Farm to Needle (half day)

Learn about how wool becomes yarn by observing videos or demos on how to shear, wash, card, spin and dye yarn. Then start a group project where you'll receive a skein of Distelfink Fiber's Farm-Raised yarn and a hat pattern of your choosing. Enjoy the rest of your time with us in our workshop to begin your new project!

Farm to Needle (full day)

Start your day learning about how wool is processed plus a tailored knitting workshop. We will provide a pattern of your project and you'll get to pick your skeins of yarn. You will have personal instruction and several hours of group time to learn, relax and have fun.

Fiber Arts (half day)

Learn about a variety of fiber arts and observe a demonstration of one of the following: Punchneedle (rug punch), Rug Hooking, Embroidery Punchneedle or Wool Applique. Following the demonstration you will have an opportunity to try it, then choose your own fiber art kit and enjoy the rest of your time starting your new project!

Fiber Art (full day)

Start your day learning about how wool is processed and various fiber art crafts with demonstrations. We will then tailor a workshop to complete a project in any of these fiber arts: knitting, rug hooking needlepunch, or wool applique. You will receive personal instruction and have several hours of group time to learn, relax and have fun.
